PHYSIOTHERAPY SELF REFERRAL FORM

You can now see a Physiotherapist without having to see your GP first. You can fill in this form and return it to the Physiotherapy Department either in person or by post. Forms are available from the Physiotherapy Department or your GP Practice.

If you work for the NHS you can self-refer online to the Occupational Health Physiotherapy Service via the Intranet.

Why Physiotherapy?

Physiotherapy can be particularly beneficial if you are suffering from low back pain, neck pain, recent injuries such as strains and sprains, or joint and muscular pain.

Made a referral, what next?

A Physiotherapist will look at your form. We will then contact you with an appointment based on the information you have supplied. Depending on the nature of your condition you may be placed on a waiting list for Physiotherapy. If you have any concerns or your condition worsens you should make an appointment with your GP.

What can I do to help myself?

Research has shown that resting for more than a day or so does not help and may actually prolong pain and disability. You may need to modify your activities initially, but the sooner you get back to normal activity the sooner you will feel better. Getting stiff joints and muscles working can feel a bit sore initially, this is normal and often a good sign that you are making progress. Changing your position or activity frequently through the day will help to prevent and reduce stiffness. Try to build up your general activity gradually.

Painkillers

Over the counter painkillers can be helpful.

A pharmacist will be able to advise you on the appropriate tablets. If your symptoms continue to worsen you may need to see your GP.

Hot or Cold?

You can put ice on a recent sprain/ strain. Use a pack of frozen peas wrapped in a damp towel for 10 minutes.

If your symptoms occurred a long time ago you may find it responds better to heat and that holding a hot water bottle wrapped in a towel on the affected area for 10 minutes reduces pain.

NB: Be aware that both hot and cold treatments can burn and that you need to check (every 5 minutes) that your skin is not becoming very red or blotchy. If this happens, stop.
